The Bracket Club may vaguely resemble other office basketball pools....BUT, if you win our initial 2009 tournament with only a $25 membership, you may never have to work in an office again.

The Internet presents an opportunity to spread the suspense and excitement of small office pool games to create the largest member fueled office pool ever. The Bracket Club is an information based membership club that will offer forums to chat live with other fans and to communicate with the best bloggers on the subject of college basketball. Put your basketball knowledge to the test against other basketball aficionados who believe that they know all there is to know about college basketball. The information will help you put your skills on display for the tournament. Show them how good you are!

The Bracket Club will limit the distribution of brackets to 250,000 for its members. There are four levels of membership to choose from, however you do not need to be a member to participate. The brackets will be filed electronically on a secure site between selection Sunday and Thursday noon when the first game tips off. Pick the "Final Four", pick the champion and accumulate the most points for the first prize. Don't worry if you don't pick all of the winners, there will be many consolation prizes.

The Bracket Club is a legal, non-gambling entity fully incorporated in the United States. The tournament will be audited annually, and all prizes will be awarded every April by our CPA firm who will track the tournament at all times. The Bracket Club supports fully the regulation and taxation of all gaming sites on the internet. We totally support the 4 pieces of legislation in congress.

2010 promises to be even more exciting with more options and prizes. We will keep you informed throughout the year.

Have fun & GOOD LUCK!
